AMENDMENT TO THE TARIFF BILL

President Taft Will Supervise Its Construction.

CONFERENCE AT WHITE HOUSE

Will Be Attended by Attorney General Wickersham, Secretary of State Knox, Senator Root and the Entire Republican Membership of the Senate Finance Committee—Tax Up on Corporations to Be Discussed.

Washington, June 22.—President Taft will personally supervise putting the finishing touches upon the proposed amendment to the tariff bill providing for the imposition of a 2 per cent tax upon the net earnings of corporations. This will be done tonight at a conference at the White House. There will be present Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root, who are drafting the amendment, and Secretary of State Knox and Senators Aldrich, Burrows, Penrose, Hale, Cullom, Lodge, McCumber, Smoot and Flint, constituting the Republican membership of the finance committee. The draft prepared by Messrs. Wickersham and Root will be discussed at the conference.

Such changes as are agreed upon will be made by the attorney general on Wednesday and it is expected the perfected amendments will be ready for introduction in the senate on Thursday.

The attorney general and Mr. Root had a long session at the Capitol and reached an agreement on practically every feature of the corporation tax plan. The portion which is giving them the greatest trouble relates to the government control of corporations necessary to carry the law into successful operation. There has been no little objection to subjecting the corporations to the amount of publicity that will be required for the enforcement of the law and to prevent manipulations of stocks and bonds for the purpose of evasion. Members of the finance committee as well as Mr. Root and Mr. Wickersham agree with President Taft that much publicity must be given and that without it the corporation tax would be a failure. This feature, it was said, certainly will be incorporated in the amendment. The authors of the draft, however, are experiencing difficulty in finding an effective way of reaching the situation.

Among the details of the bill determined upon are that the tax to be levied will be at the rate of 2 per cent and it will be collected from all corporations. All banks will come within the range of the tax bill. Deductions will be allowed national banks to the amount of taxes paid upon their circulation. An important provision to be included in the bill is a definition of earnings collected in the interstate commerce act relating to railroad corporations.

SENATORS TALK ON HIDES

Consider Proposal to Restore the Dingley Law Rates of Duty.

Washington, June 22.—The amendment of the senate committee on finance taking hides from the free list and restoring the Dingley law rates of 15 per cent ad valorem, was before the senate all day, and it was not disposed of.

Senator Warren of Wyoming and Senator Carter of Montana supported the provision and in vigorous language attacked the attitude of the free hide advocates, while Senator Page of Vermont defended the action of the house in placing hides on the free list. Mr. Warren declared that the senate had been insulted by the charge that the Dingley provision had been inserted as the result of a midnight conference, and he declared that free raw material would be the death knell of protective policy if it should be adopted, while Mr. Carter asserted that if the farmers were to be compelled to sell their products in the open market they would demand the right to buy manufactured articles in the same kind of market.

Milwaukee Men Drowned.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 22.—Oswald Lippold, thirty-five years of age, and William Arnold, twenty-one, both of Milwaukee, were drowned in the mill race here while swimming, and William Cole, also of Milwaukee, was rescued in an unconscious condition. Lippold and Cole were teaching Arnold to swim and the fatality occurred when Arnold ventured beyond his depth and pulled down the other men when they swam to his assistance.

WILL PRESENT DEMURRERS

Calhoun's Counsel Will Ask That Indictment Be Set Aside.

San Francisco, June 22.—When the case against Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways, charging that he offered a bribe of $1,000 to supervisor John J. Furey to secure an overhead trolley franchise is called in Judge Lawlor's court next Monday counsel for the defense will move that the indictment be set aside.

They will present demurrers alleging that Judge Lawlor, on account of his conduct of the trial just concluded, is not qualified to sit in the new case and that Francis J. Heney is disqualified from acting as assistant district attorney because of the alleged fact because he was at time of his appointment by District Attorney Langdon and is now, an assistant to the attorney general of the United States.

Heney declared that he was not and never had been an assistant attorney general of the United States, although he had been offered that office by Attorney General Knox. He denied also the allegation made by Moore that he had drawn large sums of money from Rudolph Spreckels for his services during the prosecution of graft cases. All money paid to him by Mr. Spreckels, he said, had been paid out by him in turn to his assistants for salaries and expenses.

ONE PERFORMANCE IN HARVARD STADIUM

Maude Adams Will Be Seen as Joan of Arc.

Cambridge, Mass., June 22.—Never in the history of the American stage has there been a performance such as that of "Joan of Arc" to be given by Maude Adams in the Harvard stadium tonight. According to those who have witnessed the rehearsals and have grasped the scope and purpose of the play the only dramatic representation with which it can be compared is the Passion play at Oberammergau.

In a series of splendid dramatic pictures, drawn on a vast scale, Miss Adams will depict the life of the young peasant girl who delivered France from the English invaders in the Fifteenth century. All sides of the character of the Maid of Orleans will be shown—her life in her native cottage, the visitation of voices that led her to the saving of her dearly beloved France, her leadership of the French forces to victory and her martyrdom.

The performance will be adequately staged. There will be 1,300 active participants, including about 800 men in armor on horseback, monks, citizens of both sexes, nobles, choir boys, English and French soldiery. The great historic figures of the time will be represented by actors well able to carry out the illusion of reality and the stage settings and costumes will show the results of an immense amount of historical research. The play is an English version of Schiller's "Joan of Arc."

Miss Adams has had the co-operation of Charles Frohman, the well known manager, in her preparations for the representation of "Joan of Arc." All his resources have been drawn upon freely for the success of the play. The purpose of the performance is the raising of money to help in the erection of a new building for the Germanic museum of Harvard university. Only one performance will be given. After the play tonight the company will be dispersed and the properties shipped to New York.

ACCUSED OF WIFE MURDER

Michigan Produce Merchant Charged With Crime.

Detroit, June 22.—A Detroit News special from Cassopolis, Mich., says Stephen S. Pangburn, sixty years old, a produce merchant, was arrested charged with the murder of his wife, from whom he had been separated for some time. It is alleged that after he had made fruitless efforts to effect a reconciliation Pangburn visited his wife at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leon Criswell, and shot Mrs. Pangburn four times in the head and body, killing her instantly. The police found him lying uninjured beside his wife's body.

Iowa Boys Drowned.

Marshalltown, Ia., June 22.—While bathing in Linn creek, Carl Johnson, aged eight, and his brother, Leonard, aged seven, were drowned.

MYSTERY STILL IS NOT SOLVED

No Further Progress Made in Sigel Murder Case.

CHUNG SIN IS UNDER ARREST

Chinaman Who Occupied Room Adjoining That in Which Crime Was Committed Is Caught by the Police of Amsterdam, N. Y.—Fails to Throw Any Light on Murder Mystery—Victim Quietly Buried.

New York, June 22.—After a bit of police flurry, an hour or two of unverified reports and telephoning between cities, the murder of Elsie Sigel, daughter of Paul Sigel of this city and granddaughter of General Franz Sigel of Civil war fame, resolved itself into an unsolved crime again.

Chung Sin, who formerly occupied a room adjoining that where the girl's body was found, is held by the police at the little up-state city of Amsterdam, N. Y., but what has been learned from him has served to clear the case little, if any. At Schenectady, the Chinaman arrested Monday, at first thought to be Leon Ling, or William L. Leon, who is sought as the girl's murderer, has, according to all indications, pretty well established that he is an unoffending Celestial who formerly worked in a restaurant in New York and whose arrest was brought about merely through a strikingly unfortunate resemblance to Leon Ling.

The disappearance of Chung Sin about the time the murder was discovered here made the police eager for his apprehension, which was considered second in importance to that of Leon, but the interview with him at Amsterdam seems to have brought out nothing. He maintains that he rarely associated with Leon, and while acquainted with Elsie Sigel, knows nothing of the murder. Thus, with his arrest of no great importance, the case aside from developments in New York is about where it was when Elsie Sigel's body was found in the trunk in a room over the Eighth avenue chop suey restaurant last Friday night.

Surrendered to the Police.

While the authorities up-state were putting the two Chinamen through an inquisition Sun Leon, keeper of the restaurant above which the body was found, was being questioned at police headquarters here. He disappeared on the night the body was found but quietly and calmly surrendered himself early Monday. He is being detained as a material witness, but his voluntary surrender is taken to mean that he is not implicated in any way in the crime.

The New York police had been in communication with Schenectady and even before the final decision was reached there that the Chinaman held was innocent, had come to the conclusion that he was not Leon Ling. Detective Forbes who hurried to Amsterdam, however, telegraphed to headquarters that there was no doubt about the identity of Chung Sin, generally referred to as Leon Ling's roommate.

In the midst of all the police activity the body of Elsie Sigel was quietly buried in Woodlawn cemetery. As the father had announced that he wished to avoid any more publicity, the coffin containing the mutilated form was taken directly from the morgue to the burying ground in a plain undertaking wagon. The ceremony at the grave was strictly private and was attended only by her father, two brothers, Reginald and Theodore, and by an uncle, Franz Sigel.

CAUSE OF QUARREL UNKNOWN

Chinaman Killed in a Fight in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, June 22.—During a fight between Chinamen in a laundry at Tenth and Locust streets Lee Kee, the proprietor, shot and fatally wounded Lee Sing. The shooting occurred in the presence of a crowd of nearly 1,000 persons who had collected on hearing a revolver shot in the laundry. Lee Sing was seen to rush out of the building carrying a hatchet in his hand. He was closely followed by Kee, who it is said carried a smoking revolver. At the doorstep another shot was fired and Sing fell with a bullet in his breast. A conductor of a passing trolley car jumped from his car and arrested Kee. Sing was removed to a hospital. Kee Kong, who was in the laundry at the time, was also placed under arrest. What caused the quarrel is unknown. The three men are cousins and belonged to the same Tong.

E. H. HARRIMAN IS NOT SICK

Reports of Railroad Magnate's Illness Denied.

Vienna, June 22.—There is no truth whatever in the reports which seem to have been current in many parts of the world that E. H. Harriman is seriously ill. Mr. Harriman's health on the whole is considered satisfactory. Certainly there have been no serious complications of any kind since his arrival here. He has been driving daily and has shown a lively interest in all Vienna's social events. On Saturday Mr. Harriman was among the guests of the emperor at the Neuhandels academy and on Sunday afternoon he witnessed the trotting races and took a drive through the principal streets.

Mr. Harriman, accompanied by his family, will leave here today for Semmering in the eastern Alps of Austria-Hungary, where he intends to stay for several weeks.

Innumerable telegrams were received here from all parts of the world making inquiries as to Mr. Harriman's condition and it is believed by his representative that the unfavorable rumors regarding his health have their explanation in maneuvers which have been going on in certain bourses and stock exchanges.

PROFESSOR FOSTER OUSTED BY BAPTISTS

Dropped From Roll of Chicago Ministers' Conference.

Chicago, June 22.—Professor George Burman Foster of the University of Chicago, whose denial of the divinity of Christ in a recent book has stirred Chicago Baptists to a high pitch of resentment, was dropped from the Baptist ministers' conference of Chicago.

Hisses, yells and general confusion made the meeting one of the stormiest ever held by churchmen in Chicago, and it was referred to by one preacher as resembling a political meeting in a rowdy ward.

Speakers who had been howled or hissed down sat with flushed, indignant faces while the chairman pounded for order.

The young son of Professor Foster was present.

"It's a shame and unfair," he shouted as he left the hall.

The conference has not the power to expel him from the church, and while such an event seemed to be desired by those present, no definite plan of action was mapped out.

Tibet's Sacred Mountain.

Two religious sects who hated one another bitterly were found by Sven Hedin in Tibet. Searching for the cause of this aversion, he found that one of the sects believed that the prayer wheel should turn to the right, while the other was convinced that the wheel should turn to the left.

In the region of the Bramaputra he found a mountain which is so sacred that whoever walks around it thirteen times has all his sins forgiven. The result of this belief is that criminals from far and near infest this region. When Sven Hedin started to ride around this mountain on his horse the pilgrims informed him that that would do him no good.

VETERAN OF THE PEN

Colonel A. K. McClure, Who Was a Power in Politics.

STRONG ALLY OF LINCOLN.

Last Survivor of Circle of Martyred President's Advisers—Raised Seventeen Regiments For Union Army In Civil War—Odd Campaign Experience.

Colonel Alexander Kelly McClure, prothonotary of the supreme and superior courts of Pennsylvania and for many years a prominent figure in politics and journalism, who recently died at his home in Wallingford, Pa., at the age of eighty-one years, was the last survivor of Abraham Lincoln's circle of personal friends and intimate political advisers. Lincoln once remarked of him, "Mr. McClure has more brains than any man I know," and it has long been conceded that excepting only Lincoln himself Colonel McClure was the man most responsible for his election to the presidency in 1860. He was chairman of the state committee of Pennsylvania at the time, and Pennsylvania was the pivotal state. Colonel McClure's able management of the campaign swung it into line and thus assured the success of the ticket.

Colonel McClure was born of Scotch Irish stock, in Sherman's valley, Perry county, Pa., on Jan. 9, 1828. Schooled upon a farm, he was taught to be self reliant, and after obtaining a meager book education he was apprenticed, at the age of fourteen years, to a tanner. During this apprenticeship, which lasted three years, he made frequent visits to the office of Judge Baker, editor of the Perry Freeman, and upon his advice he studied politics and occasionally wrote articles for publication.

Through Judge Baker he eventually became editor of the Juniata Sentinel, a new Whig organ, much against the wish of his father. With the aid only of an apprentice Mr. McClure, who was then but nineteen years old, got out the paper, and his caustic pen soon won for him a name, making as it did many friends and foes. During his early work upon the Juniata Sentinel he formed a warm friendship with Andrew G. Curtin, afterward the war governor of Pennsylvania, and a dislike for the political methods of Simon Cameron.

Year by year he forged ahead in politics, becoming Burgess of Mifflin and then deputy United States marshal. Then John M. Pomeroy purchased for him a half interest in the Chambersburg Repository. Mr. McClure became its editor and made it one of the best known journals in the state. In 1853 he was the Whig candidate for auditor general, being the youngest man ever nominated for a state office in Pennsylvania, and two years later he was a member of the convention that met at Pittsburg and organized the Republican party. In the following year he was a delegate to the national convention that nominated Fremont for the presidency.

In 1853 Mr. McClure sold the Repository and quitted journalism for a time. He was soon afterward admitted to the bar, and the following year he was elected to the assembly and afterward to the senate, on the latter occasion succeeding a Democrat who had added 350 Democratic votes to the district by a new apportionment.

In 1860 he was appointed chairman of the Republican state central committee. In that campaign he made for the first time in the state a thorough organization in every county, township and precinct, and in the national convention he carried the state for Lincoln by winning over the delegates who had been instructed for Simon Cameron. At the outbreak of the rebellion Mr. McClure was in the senate, and he was made chairman of the committee on military affairs.

Two years later he was solicited by President Lincoln and Secretary Stanton to make the draft in Pennsylvania, and, with two clerks, he had the state enrolled, credits adjusted, draft made and seventeen regiments in the field in sixty days. To give to him the military authority to make the draft he was commissioned assistant adjutant general of the United States, an office which he resigned as soon as the work was finished.

After the defeat of his party in 1863 Colonel McClure, at the special request of President Lincoln, went to Philadelphia to aid in organizing and perfecting the organization for the presidential election in the following November. The same year Lee's army, in its invasion of Pennsylvania, destroyed all his property, near Chambersburg, valued at $75,000. To do this it even went out of its way, as if with intent to leave him homeless as a punishment for his ardent support of the Union cause.

He was a delegate to the convention which nominated General Grant in 1868, and after that campaign he settled in Philadelphia for the practice of law. In 1872, with his old friend, Mr. Curtin, he joined the Greeley movement, and ever since then he was more or less independent in politics.

He was re-elected to the senate, and in 1873 he was nominated for mayor of Philadelphia against William S. Stokes and made a vigorous campaign, but he was defeated in this contest and never again appeared as a candidate for office.

Colonel A. K. McClure has stood on many platforms, has addressed assemblies large and small, political, social and religious. He was noted for his self command under any circumstances, but on one occasion he was distinctly embarrassed and ill at ease. On this occasion Colonel McClure of the foremost men of every profession in the country. Another great banquet was given to Colonel McClure on his eightieth birthday, between 400 and 500 of his friends attending it.

Two years ago Colonel McClure said at a dinner of the Clover club:

"Old age has nothing in it to fear. When death calls to me I shall not be afraid. After dining with Mr. Carnegie once Mr. Carnegie said to me that he would give $200,000,000 to have a lease on life. 'Two hundred millions, Alec,' he said to me—'that's what I'd give for a lease on this life. I'm not hoggish, either. I'd give it for ten years only.' I don't think Carnegie is afraid of death, but he clings to life. There is a difference. I said, 'Andy, you would be bunked at that price.'"

In 1904 Colonel McClure was again induced to take office and was named prothonotary of the supreme and superior courts of Pennsylvania.

MUCH BUSINESS WAS TRANSACTED

City Fathers Held a Busy Mid- Month Meeting on Monday Evening

ELECTED A BUILDING INSPECTOR

Council Tabled a Resolution to Discontinue Publishing Its Proceedings

The city council met in regular session Monday evening, in the council chambers. The following gentlemen answered to roll call: Aldermen Henning, Cardle, Paine, Zakariasen, Gardner, Drexler, Kjellquist and Dieckhaus. Nays, Robertson, Gardner and President Twohey. On motion the city attorney was instructed to draw a resolution rescinding the resolution ordering the council proceedings published. The city attorney reported the following resolution: "Be it Resolved, That hereafter the proceedings of the city council be not published at the expense of the city."

A motion was made and seconded to adopt. Alderman Henning thought that action should be delayed in order that the publishers of the Tribune be given an opportunity to show that his bid was not an excessive price.

President Twohey and Alderman Gardner opposed the adoption of the resolution. Alderman Gardner moved that the motion be amended to lay the resolution on the table until the next regular meeting. The ayes and nays were demanded and the amendment was passed. Aldermen Henning, Robertson, Gardner, Drexler, Dieckhaus and President Twohey voted for the amendment and Aldermen Cardle, Paine, Zakariasen and Kjellquist voted against the amendment which was declared carried.

On motion the bid of E. Levant for old hose at $21 per ton and for old brass at 6 1/2 cents per pound was accepted and the fire committee, in conjunction with the fire chief, was instructed to examine all old hose and designate what should be sold.

Special Attorney A. D. Polk reported on the proceedings so far in the hearing before the appraisers in the waterworks condemnation.

President Twohey brought up the matter of complaints against Poundmaster Selleck, which precipitated a sharp controversy between Alderman Drexler and Alderman Cardle. The former, as chairman of the police committee, stated that he had investigated the course of the complaint and that the horse taken up was staked out, the rope being nineteen feet long and the stake within three feet of the street line, and that the officer was acting within his duty at the time of the trouble.

Alderman Cardle took exception to the statements and some rather sharp repartee took place between the Aldermen. The matter was formally referred to the police committee.

George Abbott was elected a member of the board of equalization receiving six votes to three for A. L. Hoffman and one for C. H. Paine.

Francis J. Britton was elected building inspector receiving ten votes.

The name of Poundmaster Selleck was ordered to be placed on the pay roll for May and June, no record appearing of the date of his election.

A request from property owners and the sidewalk contractor, for sidewalk grades in the Third Ward was informally presented by Alderman Henning but no action was taken.

The city clerk was instructed to notify the board of education that the walk north of the high school is in bad condition.

The condition of the alley in block 41 was referred to the street committee, Alderman Cardle reporting it to be in a bad condition.

Alderman Henning from the Third ward brought up the matter of transfer of a third license to that ward and suggested that the voters of the ward should be permitted to hold an election without cost to the city, to determine the wishes of the ward on the matter.

Alderman Paine moved that the use of the hose house be granted to the people of the Third ward for such purpose, and the motion was duly carried.

Alderman Paine asked if there was an ordinance licensing dray men. The question of other licenses was also brought up and the city clerk was instructed to look up all licenses not being paid.

The meeting then adjourned.

INTERNATIONAL SECRETARY DAY

Addressed a Portion of Workers at a Supper Last Night who will Assist Coming Canvass

CANVASS WILL BE NEXT WEEK

An Effort will be Made to Raise Enough Money to Meet Present Needs

The preliminaries of what is expected to be a very successful canvass for the Young Men's Christian Association of this city, were held in the association building last evening, when Mr. W. H. Day, of Chicago, international secretary, addressed a number of workers relative to the best plans for the successful carrying out of the project.

Mr. Day's principal work is in looking after the R. R. associations in twenty eight states, and his experience has given him a very broad vision of the work.

Among other things he said last evening he stated that the Y. M. C. A. has out-grown the "mite box" age—that the business men of the country had awakened to the immense value of this organization, and were contributing as they had never done before. He said that wherever the proposition was put to the people in a fair way, that there has not been a disappointment, that, as the business interests of the city became acquainted with the needs, just to that extent they met them. He used Indianapolis as an illustration. For 20 years they had been getting along with an old building, thoroughly inadequate to the needs, and at the suggestion of the international committee were encouraged to attempt to raise $250,000 for the building. In 28 days they raised $273,000. The Y. W. C. A. had been hoping to secure some funds for a new building, but were afraid that they could not raise it, but encouraged by the success of the young men's work, opened offices in the same room which the young men had used, and set their mark at $100,000. They raised $140,000.

Butler's college, of the same city, who had been trying for years to raise $5,000, used precisely the same methods right upon the heels of the other two canvasses, and secured $70,000.

He said that the effect of these contributions was not depressing upon a community, but that the testimonials of business men was to the effect that it had a most wholesome influence as it created a greater public spirit.

He dwelt at some length upon the need of the work in every community. He had a chart showing the location of 28 places in this city which he said were working for the down fall of young men, and only one institution working for the same length of hours every day for the up-lift of young men.

Secretary Dennis already has the promise of 35 men who will give such assistance as is needed next Tuesday and Wednesday when this canvass will be inaugurated.

The ladies who furnished the supper to the men last evening prepared an elegant three course luncheon, and it was served in a most excellent manner.

Women Who Are Envied

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wrecked complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at H. P. Dunn's.

Warren-Francis

Married at the residence of the brides parents near Vineland in the town of Kathio, on June 16, Mr. James G. Francis and Miss Minnie F. Warren, both of Garrison, Justice W. A. Warren, the brides father, performing the marriage ceremony. Mrs. Effie Rummel, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Mrs. William Thomas Rummel, husband of the bridesmaid, was best man. The wedding was a quiet affair there being none present but relatives of the contracting parties. The bride is a popular young lady and one of Crow Wing county's successful teachers. The groom is a respected young gentleman and a son of Nelson J. Francis of Garrison township. The young couple are both well known and well liked in the community in which they live and have the congratulations of a host of friends. They will immediately go to housekeeping in the town of Garrison.

STILL TAKING TESTIMONY

Board of Appraisers Still Busy Hearing City's Side of Condemnation Proceedings

The board of appraisers, after spending Monday afternoon in making an examination of the mains in various places in the city resumed the hearing of evidence this forenoon. The evidence was along the same lines as previously, with additional testimony as to the fire pressure furnished.

James Buley and John Mutch, drivers of the fire team testified as to the pressure, at the hose house, both ordinary and for fire protection. They stated that the ordinary pressure was from 30 to 35 pounds and that the fire pressure was almost invariably inadequate.

P. M. Johnson, former chief of the fire department, testified that while he was chief the pressure for fire service was not usually very poor.

Judd Wright, the superintendent of the waterworks company for the past seven years or more was next on the stand. Most of his time was spent explaining the pressure records, etc., of the plant. He was also asked and testified as to the revenues of the plant since 1900, testifying from the records of the company, which were put in evidence. He was still on the stand at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

TWO ACCIDENTS AT THE SHOPS

Yesterday Was Unfortunate Day for Workmen in the North- ern Pacific Shops

George Halladay Had Foot Punc- tured by Piece of Steel Just Previous

Monday must have been Jonah day at the Northern Pacific shops in this city. Two accidents one of them resulting in the loss of a foot for Edwin Cass and the other in the injury to the foot of Geo. Halladay, one of the best known blacksmiths in the shop, occurred within ten minutes of one another. Mr. Cass, who is about 20 years of age, was employed as a switchman on the dummy engine, used to shift cars, etc., on the locomotive side of the shops. He was engaged in his work about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the engine was backing onto the electric transfer between the boiler shop and machine shop.

When Cass stepped off the engine he stepped too close to the edge of the transfer and his foot was caught between the transfer and the rail of the track and crushed. He was hurried to the Northern Pacific hospital where part of the foot was amputated, the heel being saved. He stood the shock of the operation well and it is thought will speedily recover his normal strength. He was a quiet unassuming young man, the son of A. R. Cass, of Baxter, and brother of Russell Cass the letter carrier, and is very popular with his associates who sincerely sympathize with him over the unfortunate accident.

About ten minutes before the accident to Mr. Cass occurred George Halladay, one of the best known blacksmiths in the shop, had the misfortune to have a piece of steel driven into his foot. He was taken to the hospital and his foot dressed and it is believed that there will be no serious results, though he will be laid up for some time.

A Thrilling Rescue

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheney, Wash. was served from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." Sumrall, Miss., June 22.—In a battle here C. McMellon, a justice of the peace and local Methodist preacher, was killed. ### A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-cough, chronic bronchitis, and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon engorged, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

DEFENSE RESTS IN GOULD CASE

Closes Without Putting Howard Gould on the Stand.

SURPRISES THE COMPLAINANT

Did Not Expect the Announcement That the Defendant Would Not Testify—Counsel for Plaintiff Produces Witnesses Who Swear to the Good Behavior of Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould.

New York, June 22.—Sensation seekers and the curious who have attended daily the sessions of Katherine Clemmons Gould's suit for separation from her husband, Howard Gould, were sadly disappointed at the resumption of the hearings before Justice Dowling in the supreme court when it was announced that the defense had rested and that Howard Gould would not take the stand. It had been expected that his direct testimony and his cross-examination by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for the plaintiff, would take two full days.

Mr. Shearn apparently was greatly surprised by the announcement that Mr. Gould would not testify. Gould himself seemed relieved and Mrs. Gould annoyed.

"Since the recess of last Friday, your honor," said Delancy Nicoll, counsel for Gould, "my associates and I have decided that the testimony which we have offered is so complete that there is no necessity for going further. We therefore have decided to rest at this time."

When he recovered from his first astonishment Mr. Shearn led off the rebuttal with testimony designed to show, he explained, "the falsity of the charge that Mrs. Gould was continually and habitually intoxicated from 1902 to the present date."

"Do you regard such evidence as necessary?" asked the court.

Necessary or not, counsel for the plaintiff thereupon produced a stream of below-stairs witnesses, whose testimony was followed by the reading of depositions of guests and friends who swore that Mrs. Gould never, to their knowledge, drank to excess and that she was always affable, reserved and modest in her language—testimony directly opposed to that the defendant's witnesses had given previously. It was an account of the unexpected attitude taken by the defense that Mr. Shearn had run short of witnesses late in the day and was obliged to introduce the depositions. He promised, however, to have a string of about fifty ready when court again opens, who will testify in rebuttal to disprove, if possible, the husband's charges, including Mrs. Gould's alleged associations with Dustin Farnum, the actor.

NEGRO BEATEN BY ANGRY MOB

Colored Assailant of White Girl Narrowly Escapes Lynching.

Pittsburg, June 22.—A mob of 1,000 persons composed of Hungarians, Slavs and Greeks, interspersed with American steel mill employees, attacked and beat Joseph Brown, a negro, who it is said attempted an assault upon a seventeen-year-old white girl, Minnie Berry.

The girl's screams attracted the attention of her rescuers and before the police arrived the negro had been kicked, beaten and stoned into unconsciousness.

The officers fought their way through the mob to a nearby station house, where the negro was placed in a cell while the mob outside cried "lynch him, break down the doors, lynch him."

Reserves cleared the streets and the negro was removed to the county jail. The girl was unharmed.

ONE KILLED AND SEVEN HURT

Elevator Falls From Seventh Story of a Building.

Cincinnati, June 22.—One man was killed and seven others were injured, four of them seriously, in the fall of an elevator from the seventh story of the Murdock building. The dead and injured were all employees of the James Murdock, Jr., company in Opera Place. The dead man is George Dehnlein.

The seriously injured are William J. Orr, elevator operator; Edward Lorenz, John Choenfeldt and Edward J. Lamping.

The elevator had stopped to take on the waiting men and just as the descent from the seventh floor began, a cable slipped and the ponderous cab shot down the shaft and struck on the floor. Simultaneously the huge upper structure, which had become unloosened and had fallen the entire distance of the eight stories, crashed down upon the already stunned and bleeding men. Dehnlein was killed outright.

LOOKS EASY FOR NELSON

Bat Is Expected to Have No Trouble in Beating Clifford.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 22.—Although no one here believes that tonight's fight between Battling Nelson, champion lightweight of the world, and Jack Clifford will make the champion extend himself he looks fit to fight hard for his title.

The fight is slated to last twenty rounds, but it will be a big surprise to the sports gathered here to see the contest if it goes the limit. Clifford has been training hard to get into condition. Nelson has also been here several days.

SWAY OF MONOPOLIES

Samuel Untermyer Declares Trusts Are Enthroned.

ANTI-TRUST LAW FLAUNTED.

"There Never Has Been an Honest Effort to Enforce It," Charges the Lawyer—Dreads the Awakening and Fears an Upheaval in the United States.

Samuel Untermyer, who was counsel for Adolph Segal in the recent suit against the sugar trust, sailed from New York with his wife on the steamship Kronprinzessin Cecelle the other day for Europe. When asked before he sailed his views as to a criminal prosecution of the trust and whether his client had decided to press such prosecution or take any active part in aiding it, he said:

"What would be the use? The sugar company has been a consistent lawbreaker ever since its birth. Its activities in congress have been one of the scandals of the country for many years. It has robbed the public and ruined its would be competitors. But it is no worse than many of the others in its criminal methods and not quite so bad as some.

"This suddenly aroused virtuous abhorrence of its methods is amusing. It accidentally happens at the moment to be the scapegoat, but as the government has waited until after the principal offenders are dead it doesn't much matter. Whenever the government really wants to bring the criminal rich who are managing these conspiracies that are notoriously violating the criminal law within the penalties of that law, it will not be difficult. There never has been an honest, intelligent effort to enforce the ample provisions of the law against any of the monster monopolies.

"The government has had no trouble in convicting and driving out of business a few poor, struggling, comparatively harmless combinations that were put together to prevent bankruptcy and secure a small profit. But the financial buccaners who have been 'holding up' the country in the necessities of life, keeping out foreign competition through the tariff at one end and crushing home competition at the other until the increase in cost of living is alarming, have remained immune until every lawyer who has had to deal with this big question knows that the pretended enforcement of the law is a huge farce.

"Every time the government has had a chance to enforce the criminal provisions of the law (which constitute the only effective part, the others being mainly academic) it has run. There are always so many reasons for not doing things that it is never difficult to find one. We learned that lesson in the recent ventilation of corporate dishonesty when every exposed criminal went unpunished, most of them back at the old game on slightly modified lines, including the subsidizing of a part of the press through extravagant advertising at the policy holders' expense and jeering at the discomfited 'muck rakers.'

"We all know that the anti-trust law is being openly flouted and violated every day by some of the most powerful men in the land. There are numberless secret, unlawful pools to control prices and restrict production operating in New York today, many of them under written agreements that are criminal conspiracies on their face. "If a fraction of the energy that is wasted in smashing gambling house doors and watching saloons, etc., were expended in getting evidence that is obtainable we should soon be able to bring this great evil under control.

"Somehow or other it looks as if the power of these men is too much for the government. The evidence of crimes has been for years available to the public authorities if they would go about their task as they do in ferreting out smugglers, counterfeiters, postoffice thieves and other classes of criminals.

"We are told by a certain section of the press, and some gentlemen around Wall street are regaining their smug confidence in that belief, that there has been a reaction in the public mind against what they are pleased to call 'attacks' on these criminal conspiracies.

"For the sake of the country let us hope these gentlemen are mistaken, for if they are right we shall have an upheaval in this country as compared to which the mild and harmless experiments of the last administration will seem like a midsummer zephyr alongside a cyclone.

"These pools and combinations are growing stronger and more numerous. Individual enterprise is being strangled. Unless they are brought within the clutch of the criminal law and destroyed the future is fraught with danger. The only way to regulate them is to bury them. So long as the president of the United States can defy the law by giving them immunity and go unrebuked the sentiment of the country is callous.

"I dread the awakening. We are a hysterical, press ridden people, and we go to extremes.

"Until the public mind is aroused to a recognition of the extent of the evils from which we are suffering and the far greater dangers that are threatening us it is useless to attempt to bring these men within the law. Their power is so great that they are practically above the law except when confronted with an aroused public opinion. I devoted my time and money to that service in the life insurance fight at great personal sacrifice and with the aid of the most distinguished body of public spirited citizens ever got together with only temporary results and of the most unsatisfactory kind, and we had nothing for our pains but abuse and misrepresentation. In the end one of the companies whose agents had been forging ballots, when the agents were caught in the act, was able to protect the confessed forger from punishment under cover of indicting the secretary of our committee, and it took us years and almost bankrupted the poor fellow to prove his own innocence. I refer to poor Mr. Scrugham, who was acquitted by a jury in three minutes.

"But meantime we had no time or disposition to follow the real criminals. At least one of the companies is back at its old games again with practically the same crowd in command. There is no real sustained public support for such movements in this country. We are too fickle, too busy and too easily led. I repeat that the sugar trust is no worse than many of the others. We are getting just about the sort of administration of our laws that we deserve."

The Second Highest Lighthouse.

Mazatlan is a picturesque place. A lighthouse stands high upon the small mount Cerro del Creston, at the north entrance of the shallow bay—the highest lighthouse in the world save Gibraltar—and the south entrance is guarded by rugged rocks. In the distance lies the town, with its cathedral spires standing prominently against the sky; below, cocoanut palms and thatched roofs, and in the blue background the towering peaks of the Cordilleras complete the scene. A cooling breeze modified the rigors of the midday tropical heat, and the night was one of splendor, with a gorgeous sunset, followed by a full and brilliant moon.—Outing Magazine.
